In response to other inquiries, Mr. LaClair stated that food service at Willow Point Nursing and Rehabilitation Center has improved significantly. The service is presented in a "more homelike atmosphere" and many residents have expressed their appreciation with the new service.

Christine Battisti and Jessica Hyatt of the Crime Victims Assistance Center presented on its Safe Harbour Program, which works with at-risk youth (under 18 years old) in preventing sex trafficking. The program is now in its fifth year with the funding due to expire at the end of the year. Ms. Battisti said the organization has taken steps to obtain long-term funding for the program when the grant money runs out. Since inception, the organization has assisted 196 youth who have been presented as at-risk. Ms. Battisti says many of those who are served are runaways and students who do not attend school on a regular basis. Safe Harbor has established a center in Endicott where they can assist these youth with a place to stay, facilities for showering and doing laundry and helping to keep them away from sex trafficking. Ms. Battisti says the organization often tables at community events and is taking part in a fundraiser in the coming weeks. This year they will focus more on parents to give them the tools to avoid increasing the number of at-risk youth. CVAC will also host a two-day conference in November on sex trafficking. Handouts from the presentation have been included in this file.

There being no further business to come before the Committee at this time, a motion to adjourn was made by Ms. Kaminsky, seconded by Ms. Ryan. The meeting adjourned at 4:57 PM.

Red Flags of Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children (CSEC) and Child Trafficking

General Indicators of Child Trafficking (Sex and Labor)

- Leaves home frequently and/or for significant periods of time
- Shows signs of mental, physical, or sexual abuse
- Uses street slang for sex work
- Has a significantly older partner/spends a lot of time with a controlling person or older adult
- Relies on another person to speak for them
- Indications or reports of domestic violence/intimate partner violence
- Lies about age or carries a fake form of identification
- Describes a stalking situation
- Lives in housing provided by employer
- Significantly reduces contact with family, friends, or other support networks
- Displays a pattern of staying in the homes of friends or a non-legally responsible adult
- Reluctant to discuss how they make money, where they live, or how or when they came to the United States
- Lacks control over schedule and/or money
- Has large amounts of money or costly items they cannot reasonably afford
- Involvement in systems (social services, PINS, courts, etc.)
- Works more than they are in school or does not often attend school
- Experiences suicidal ideations and/or depression
- Youth has experienced multiple placements

Physical Indicators of Child Trafficking

- Has untreated injuries
- Has old and new injuries and/or is injured frequently
- Explanations for injuries are inconsistent with their severity
- Has had multiple sexually transmitted infections and/or abortions
- Has suspicious tattoos or burn marks (branding)
- Exhibits overt sexualized behavior
- Exhibits evidence of sexual abuse

Psychological/Behavioral Indicators of Child Trafficking

- Has heightened sense of fear or distrust of authority
- Is unwilling to disclose whereabouts or information about parents or caregivers
- Is restricted in communication and/or displays anxious, fearful, depressed, submissive, tense and nervous behavior
- Is unwilling or unable to identify as a victim
- Displays behaviors aligned with a trauma history or PTSD
- Has many inconsistencies in their story
- Multiple youth retell the same story in the same way many times, giving the appearance that the story has been coached
- Fear of consequences is greater than circumstances would warrant (for example, being late)

NEW YORK STATE
— OFFICE OF CHILDREN AND FAMILY SERVICES
CHILD SEX TRAFFICKING INDICATORS TOOL
To be used for the comprehensive screening

This tool is based on the work done by Westchester County and Monroe County through the Safe Harbour: NY program (formerly known as ChildRight: New York). Safe Harbour: NY is a New York State Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS)-coordinated program that aims to improve the ability of local departments of social services (LDSSs) and child welfare-serving agencies to efficiently and effectively use their resources to respond to and care for children and youth who are victims of commercial sexual exploitation or child trafficking.

This tool is to be used with children who the LDSS, VA, or juvenile justice staff believe may be a victim, believe may be a victim, or are at risk of being a victim, of sex trafficking. The tool assists workers with looking at possible indicators of sex trafficking, or at risk of sex trafficking, that the child may exhibit. Other than those that are disclosures or proof of trafficking or commercial sex acts, exhibiting one of these indicators does not automatically mean that a child was a victim of trafficking.

The indicators are grouped into “meets child trafficking definition”, “high” and “medium” levels, indicating that a child may have been trafficked or is at risk of being trafficked. Some items included in medium level may be of high concern in general, but may fall on the medium scale for sex trafficking indicators (for example, while a child under 13 who is engaging in sexual activity is of general high concern, it may not correlate with a higher level indicator for sex trafficking, depending on the specific circumstances). Youth with higher numbers of indicators or who have indicators in a higher level are more likely to have been trafficked or engage in behaviors that may increase the risk of being trafficked. The child’s indicator level should be used when developing the child’s case plan and referral for services for him/her. In addition, when completing the indicator level tool, workers should carefully consider when youth who have certain vulnerabilities, such as chronic homelessness, multiple runaway episodes, are LGBTQ, immigration status issues, developmental delays, and/or history of sex abuse, also have indicators present, as they may hold more weight due to the increased vulnerability of the youth.

If an indicator is checked off under the section titled, “Child meets federal definition as child sex trafficking victim,” the child must be documented as a sex trafficking victim and the response protocol must be followed. This includes documenting the notification to law enforcement within 24 hours. See the policy Requirements to Identify, Document, Report, and Provide Services to Child Sex Trafficking Victims (for LDSSs and VAs) or Child Sex Trafficking Commercially Sexually Exploited Children \(CSEC\) (for OCFS DJJOY) for more information.

If a child is determined to be a trafficking victim, the worker is not required to complete the rest of the indicators on the checklist during the initial screening, but it is recommended that the worker revisit the tool and check off all applicable indicators when developing the child’s case plan and referring the child for services. This is also the case for the other levels of indicators. If a child has high or medium level indicators, there is no need to complete the rest of the checklist during the first screening, but it should be done prior to the development of the plan of services for the child.

These levels are meant to be fluid; a child’s indicator level may go up or down based on information learned during the life of the case. The tool should be used any time the worker learns new information about the child that may be an indicator of trafficking involvement. Workers should mark the indicators the child exhibits and follow the instructions for each section.
